

Using direct speech in story writing

Your task is to continue from this point in the story by writing your own version of the events. Re-read chapter 14 before you start your writing.

Think about how you will use direct speech and description. There is a video link at the bottom of the page to remind you how to set your speech out.

Chapter 14

It didn't take long for the pickup to return. Mr. Pendanski stepped out of the cab. A tall woman with red hair stepped out of the passenger side. She looked even taller than she was, since Stanley was down in his hole. She wore a black cowboy hat and black cowboy boots which were studded with turquoise stones. The sleeves on her shirt were rolled up, and her arms were covered with freckles, as was her face. She walked right up to X-Ray...

This image shows a single page of white paper with horizontal black lines, resembling notebook paper. The lines are evenly spaced and run across the width of the page. There are no margins, text, or other markings on the paper.
